

April 1, 2016

TouchPoint, Inc. Acquires Vanas Medical Storage Solutions

Effective today, TouchPoint, Inc., the parent company of Supply Point Systems, Ltd. (SPS), has completed the acquisition of Vanas Medical Storage Solutions (Vanas). Vanas is a Belgium based supplier of self-service, computerized distribution systems for medication and medical supplies in hospitals and healthcare facilities.

Like SPS's Mediwell Systems, Vanas serves various segments of the global Healthcare industry and is particularly strong in the European and Middle Eastern markets. Vanas offers a packaged solution that includes the medical vending equipment and software needed to manage and control the distribution of medication and supplies.

"We are excited for this opportunity to expand our medical product line and look forward to adding Vanas solutions to our portfolio", said Mark Peers, Managing Director of Supply Point Systems. "Vanas is a long standing customer of SPS's medical vending cabinets and equipment, which Vanas has run on their own proprietary software package for their served markets. By combining SPS's best-in-class inventory management equipment and software with Vanas's expertise in medical vending, we are well positioned to deliver additional value to our global customers."

Additional information on Vanas can be found on their website at www.vanasmedical.eu.

About SPS

Supply Point Systems was formed in 1998 to design, develop and manufacture the innovative SupplyPoint point-of-use inventory management system. Through continuous investment, development and focused expansion, Supply Point Systems, together with our network of skilled and dedicated distributors, have become firmly established as a world leader in automated point-of-use inventory solutions.

Through close working relationships with our distributors and end users, SPS products are continuously evolving to provide ever improving benefits. Our custom design skills, coupled with a unique knowledge of real-life inventory management requirements, enable us to produce products which consistently deliver tangible benefits to organisations of any size.

Supply Point Systems, Ltd.

Units B Swift Park, Swift Valley Industrial Estate, Rugby CV21 1DZ United Kingdom
Phone: +44-844-5761247 Fax: +44-844-5761248 uk-info@supplypointsystems.com